

Wellview Health Expands Leadership Team Derrall Tilson Promoted to Vice President Operations & Analytics

Nashville, TN (April 15, 2019) – Wellview Health continues to expand the company's leadership team for continued growth and industry positioning as the leader in healthcare engagement and management. The company recently announced the promotion of Derrall Tilson to Vice President Operations & Analytics, rounding out the company's strategic leadership team led by CEO and Co-Founder James Story.

"Derrall's strength in operational process and data analytics adds a critical element of expertise to our leadership team and our ability to expand market share and scale the company. With his skill set, we recently launched Wellview Analytics™ to make data more actionable and demonstrate our unique ability to reduce claims trend by 12%," said Story.

Tilson joined Wellview Health last August with former experience at Cigna-Healthspring, Vanderbilt University Medical Center, and the Tennessee Army National Guard. He recently led the development of Wellview Analytics™, the company's new proprietary reporting and analytics tool that integrates consumer, clinical and claims data into actionable healthcare management.

Founded in 2014, Wellview Health has assembled an experienced and proven management team with more than 100 years of collective experience, and the skills, passion, and intellectual capabilities for fast growth. The company has quickly risen to a leading position in population health management with record-breaking health engagement, clinical outcomes, and claims cost reduction rates.

Currently providing health management and concierge health services to more than 22,000 family lives through employers in the banking, restaurant, marketing, and healthcare industries throughout the U.S., Wellview Health continues to focus on strategic expansion in 2019 and 200% growth in 2020. To learn more about Wellview Health, please visit www.wellviewhealth.com.

ABOUT WELLVIEW HEALTH

Wellview Health is a results-driven, consumer-focused health engagement and management company that is changing the way people discover, engage with, and access healthcare in the U.S. We use a predictive and preventative approach to help consumers navigate the complexities of healthcare, and create proactive lifestyle change that improves overall health and well-being. Our multi-disciplinary health solutions approach integrates personal health education, clinical provider services, behavioral health support and advocacy, and simplified access and navigation of healthcare services and providers to improve health outcomes and lower healthcare costs.

CONTACT

To learn more, please contact:

Carla Denham, Chief Marketing & Consumer Experience Officer

810 Dominican Dr., Nashville, TN 37203

Office: (615) 326-5783 | Mobile: (615) 714-1559

cdenham@wellviewhealth.com

APPROVED IMAGES

Derrell Tilson

Vice President Operations & Analytics

Wellview Health